Write-up about the Event:

The resource person, Dr. Namakkal S Rajendran, Associate Professor, Department of Pathology, University of Alabama at Birmingham, Alabama, USA, gave an insight on the opportunities open for the undergraduate and post graduate students. He explained that Biomedical Sciences is a highly sought after field of study, with plenty of career scope. Upon completing Bachelor studies in the field, students can utilise their talents and acquired skills to contribute to and perhaps even lead medical advances. Jobs in this field include management, research, laboratory work, consultancy and education. Both in India and abroad, there are enormous career prospects for Biomedical Science graduates. Pharmaceutical companies, government organisations, forensics departments, veterinary laboratories, and many other kinds of work options are made available to these aspirants to support their pursuit of science that can improve the health care system.

Out Come of the Event:

The students understood that Biomedical science combines the fields of biology and medicine to focus on the health of both animals and humans. To become a biomedical scientist, one has to study biochemical and physiological functions, anatomical and histological structures, epidemiology, and pharmacology.

Write-up about the Event:

School of Life Sciences, Department of Biotechnology., Nehru Arts and Science College, Coimbatore organized a Guest Lecture at UG Lab on the topic "An Introduction to Immunology" on 21st November 2022. Dr. S. Ganesh, Ph.D., PDF, Coimbatore gave a lecture on the basics of Immunology. He explained that the immune system is a collection of cells, chemicals and processes that function to protect the skin, respiratory passages, intestinal tract and other areas from foreign antigens, such as microbes (organisms such as bacteria, fungi, and parasites), viruses, cancer cells, and toxins. The innate immune response has no immunologic memory and, therefore, it is unable to recognize or "memorize" the same pathogen should the body be exposed to it in the future. Adaptive immunity, on the other hand, is antigen-dependent and antigen-specific and, therefore, involves a lag time between exposure to the antigen and maximal response.

Nehru Gardens, Thirumalayampalayam, Coimbatore - 641 105, Tamil Nadu.

Outcome of the Event:

Students could understand that beyond structural and chemical barriers to pathogens, the immune system has two fundamental lines of defense: innate immunity and adaptive immunity. There is a great deal of synergy between the adaptive immune system and its innate counterpart, and defects in either system can provoke illness or disease, such as inappropriate inflammation, autoimmune diseases, immunodeficiency disorders and hypersensitivity reactions.

The Department of Commerce has conducted FDP on research & publications ethics for faculty to our faculties on 07/11/2022. Our department staffs have actively participated and get benefitted.

Write-up about the Event:

The Faculty Development Program on Research & Publications Ethics served as a crucial initiative to empower educators in maintaining the highest standards of ethical conduct in scholarly endeavors. Designed to enhance understanding and compliance with ethical norms, the program equipped faculty members with the knowledge and tools necessary for responsible and transparent research practices.

Outcome of the Event:

It helped to cultivate a culture of ethical conduct, ensuring that faculty members are well-equipped to uphold the highest standards of integrity in their research and scholarly activities.

Write-up about the Event:

Hands-on Training on “Digital Statistical Tools in Life Research” was organised by the Department of Food Science and Nutrition” on 17.11.2022. Dr. D. Manjula, Assistant Professor, Department of Mathematics, Sri Ramakrishna Engineering College, Coimbatore, explained the Statistical tools that can be applied in the Life Science Research career for the II PG students. They learned the concept and application of SPSS Software in Life Science research

Outcome of the Event: Students were sensitised on the statistical tools which is required for their research career. This has improved their research technical knowledge and will help them during research oriented career.
