Write-up about the Event:

The speaker Ms. Bhooma Kumari had connected the thoughts and learnings of Gandhiji with the apprehensions of the modern day world. Gandhiji teachings for the business world show us the way to live life with care, love and dignity. He guides lives in the levels of both personal and professional life. His teachings are mostly taken from the Bagavath Geethai and applied in our day to day life. He advocated trusteeship in business. Today under the able leadership of PM Modiji we have the CSR law and India has reaped its share of corporate earnings, thanks to the sense of trusteeship. Even during the period when the world didn't know much of environmental issues, Gandhiji was an environmentalist, which he draws from the rich Indian culture and tradition. The speaker had given many modern techniques which was instantly appreciated by the audience. One such was the 5Rs and Let it go attitude. Gandhiji as a leader spearheaded a movement for personal change, and the speaker beautifully connected it to modern day business world. They had walked upto the speaker and not only appreciated her but also spoke of their best take-home from the speech delivered. There were volunteers from faculty and students who commented on the freshness of the subject matter and the soft but meaningful delivery as well. Finally the function ended with our National Anthem.

Out Come of the Event:

Students were sensitized about the relevance of Gandhiji even after 100 years. They might go in for business or work from a company or corporate tomorrow. Gandhiji 's teachings on how to conduct a business comes as a great guiding force. Trusteeship helps us understand as a general manager, a business owner and even a HR person. Marketing world and even a salesman has his or her own learnings. How to treat people in day to day life and in failing relationships are more of a psychological treat to the modern world. The NCC, NSS and students enjoyed the talk and said it was highly informative too.
